

DIY FLOWER BUCKETS @NEW LEAF FARM

DIY Flowers are available by the bucket from July-September. For $75(plus sales tax) you receive 75-80 stems in well balanced mix of focal flowers, textural accents, and greenery. All buckets contain a seasonal mix of blooms chosen by the farmer. We do not promise certain flowers or specific colors and quantities, instead we harvest a complimentary mix of what is most beautiful and bountiful at the time of your event. You may specify a bright, bold, or soft palette for your buckets but design consultation is not included.

Before booking your date, consider these questions:

- Do you have a flexible vision of how your event flowers will look?
- Are you passionate about working with seasonal, local, organically grown flowers?
- Do you have enough people, time, and a space to create your arrangements?
- Does someone in your party have experience arranging flowers or do you have the opportunity to practice flower design before your event?

Paying for your flowers:

DIY buckets are $75 each plus sales tax. We request a 50% advanced payment to book your date. This payment will be deducted from your total bill and the balance will be due upon pick up.

Picking up your flowers:

We recommend picking up your flowers a day or two before your event. Our flowers usually last for a week or more, but their ability to hold up in direct sunlight or last out of water will decrease over time. We do not recommend picking up flowers the day of your event.

What's in a Bucket:

75-80 seasonal stems in a well balanced mix of focal flowers, textural accents, and greenery. Each bucket should provide you with enough flowers for approximately 5-7 qt Mason jar designs; extrapolate for larger vases, more table settings, and personal flowers.
